Câu 24 Description

Read the passage and answer the questions.

The idea of life in outer space has fascinated people for a long time. Some scientists argue that life developing on Earth was so unlikely that it probably didn't happen anywhere else. The conditions here were perfect for life, and that might be rare. On the other hand, other scientists believe space is so vast, with countless stars and planets, that it's almost impossible that we are alone in the universe.

For years, there have been numerous reports of alien visitors. People from different parts of the world have claimed to see UFOs or even aliens themselves. Some have even taken videos of strange objects flying in the sky. Some Americans even believe that the U.S. Army found an alien spaceship crashed in the desert but covered it up. While these stories may be true, scientists still haven't discovered any significant traces of alien life.

When you look up at the night sky, you see only a small part of the universe. There are so many stars, planets, and galaxies that we can't even count them. If Earth is the only livable planet, we are truly special in this amazing universe.

Câu 26 Description

Read the following text and choose the correct answer to each of the questions.

Do you find it difficult to get out of bed in the morning? Across the world, bedtimes are getting later and teenagers are sleeping less. What are the reasons? Stress is an important factor. Many young people find it hard to sleep before a big event such as an exam. Our increasing use of technology may also be to blame. New research at Kings College London, involving 125,000 teenagers, shows that using a phone or tablet before going to bed makes it twice as likely you'll asleep badly that night. And the following day, this lack of sleep can make it difficult to concentrate on studying.

Many schools try to solve this problem by starting the school day later. Some other schools in New Mexico choose to do something different - they installed sleeping areas, where students can sleep for 20 minutes in specially designed chairs. I recently tried one of these chairs. It looked like something from a science-fiction film. When I lay down on it, the top part slowly covered my body so that it became dark inside. Some people might find that scary, but I didn't mind. I slept well, so I'm sure these chairs will help those who have trouble sleeping.

Read and then decide if the following statements are true or false.

Unlike life in the countryside which is often considered to be simple and traditional, life in the city is modern and bustling. Large cities have great public amenities so people from different regions move to the cities. They hope to have a better life for themselves and their children. According to the General Statistics Office of Vietnam, urbanization in Vietnam has increased rapidly, with the urban population growing by 3.2% annually.

Cities create many job opportunities such as office secretaries, businessmen, factory workers, and even street vendors or construction workers. It is much easier to find a suitable job in the city than in the country. However, the high cost of living requires people, especially those with low income to work harder or to take a part-time job. People can easily get exhausted and stressed out.

Industrialization and modernization have had a big impact on lifestyle in the cities. The biggest impact can be seen in clothing styles, followed by the materials used. The "Ao Dai" - a traditional Vietnamese garment - is no longer commonly worn in Vietnamese women's daily life. Instead, jeans, T-shirts, and fashionable clothes are widely preferred.

Câu 26 Description

Read the following passage then choose the best answer to each question below.

Getting A Weekend Job

by Paula Mark, aged 16

Last summer I wanted to start earning money so I could save to go on holiday with my friends. But if you are under eighteen, you are limited to what jobs you can do. I applied for jobs at a few shops in my neighborhood but none of them had any jobs for teens. I thought I would never find a weekend job. Then, one day my mum gave me the local newspaper and showed me an advert for the local zoo. They were looking for teenagers to work at the weekend. So I immediately applied for that job online.

Within a few days, I got a phone call asking me to go for an interview. I put on my best clothes and went to the zoo's office the next day to meet the manager. The interview must have gone very well because when I got home, I got a phone call from him saying that I got the job. He asked me if I could start the following Saturday. And of course, I said yes!

On Saturday morning, I got up very early and went to the zoo. I was there too early and the gates were still locked. At nine o'clock, the manager arrived to open the zoo. He took me to the staff room and gave me a uniform which I had to put on over my normal clothes. He also gave me a pair of boots. He told me that the ground was wet and dirty everywhere, so I would need them.

My first job was to clean the elephant house. It was great fun because I was with another girl that had been working there for some months. She was really friendly and gave me lots of tips. And there were two baby elephants trying to play with us. They were very funny! My colleague told me that our next job was to clean the lion's cage. I was really scared, but luckily the lion wasn't in the cage at that point.

It's been a couple of months since I started my weekend job and each week I am taken to work with other animals and people. I really love it!

SPACE HOLIDAY

Are you thinking of going on holiday in space? Well, you may not be able to go to the Moon, but you could consider a space tour! This kind of 'holiday' allows people to stay in space in a space station. Of course, it is very expensive and you'd have to be a millionaire to afford it!

First of all, it costs 30 million dollars! Secondly, there's a pretty long waiting list - there are no free places for some years. Finally, you have to be very fit and healthy and do a lot of training to prepare yourself before you can go on this kind of holiday.

So, why do people want to travel in space? Well, the answer seems to be the excitement and the fun of seeing Earth from above. Astronauts have described the view of Earth from space as absolutely breathtaking.

While space tourism remains a dream for most, the growing interest is not limited to space alone. Many people also hunt for unique tours which include space-like experiences. Câu 22 Description

Read the following passage then choose the best answer to each question below.

Salaries

In the United States, it's usually not a good idea to ask someone, "How much money do you earn?" because many people believe that their salary is private information. However, you can easily find out information about typical salaries for various jobs online.

Which jobs offer the highest salaries? In the United States, professions such as doctors, dentists, and pilots tend to have the best pay. This is understandable, because working in these fields requires many years of education and training. On the other hand, what about jobs which pay the least? The lowest-paying positions are often found in the food industry. For example, cooks in fast-food restaurants and waitstaff are among those with the lowest salaries in the country.

It's important to remember that your salary includes not just the money you earn every week or month. Many jobs offer a salary along with benefits. Benefits are extra perks which are provided by employers, such as health insurance and paid vacation days. They can account for about 25% of an employee's total compensation. For instance, if someone has a salary of $40,000 plus benefits, their total earnings can be around $50,000. That's a significant amount of extra value!

Câu 1 Description

Read and then decide if the following statements are true or false.

Hi Nguyen,

Many of my friends have started talking about their future careers though we still have three more years to go before we finish our school education. Some want to have a nine-to-five job like a bank clerk, some want to do something more creative like a designer, and my twin David even dreams of travelling into space.

For me, my plan for the future will take far more than three years to accomplish. After getting a university degree, I will follow my long dream. It is to join the Peace Corps, which is a volunteer programme of the United States. This programme allows young people to work abroad for two years with schools, nonprofit organizations, and charities... in areas like education and agriculture.

The biggest aim of the programme is to help us to understand the cultures of other countries and help people outside the USA to understand us. The process can be difficult, but I believe it will be very rewarding. I will have a chance to travel to a faraway land, find ways to fit into a community that is very different from my own, and work together with the local people.

How about your dream career? I hope to hear from you soon.
